

John Goes Above And Beyond!

Aerial photography (videos and stills) taken from airplanes and helicopters used to be limited to very high end real estate properties listed for sale. With the advent of new more affordable technologies, lofty viewpoints are now being used to promote many more types of real estate.

In addition to his stellar credentials as a REALTOR® licensed in Maryland and Pennsylvania, John is licensed by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) as an Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV) pilot. He is legally permitted to fly UAVs (commonly called drones) for the commercial purpose of photographing real estate from previously unavailable perspectives - enhancing his ability to showcase his clients' properties that are listed for sale.
